ANDERSON'S LATEST THING IN INDUSTRY

BURRIS MILLING COMPANY HAS PLENTY WHEAT TO GRIND.

HAVE 450 BUSHEL

Had 35 Customers Yesterday Who Brought Average of 3 to 5 Barrels to Be Ground.

The making of wheat into flour might be called one of the latest and largest industries in Anderson, since there is now an up-to-date flour mill running in the city with a capacity of 50 barrels per day. The flour made by the mill is of the very best grade and is fit for any man's table. Yesterday afternoon a reporter of The Intelligencer, Mr. R. E. Burris, of the Burris Milling company, stated that they had turned out something over 40 barrels of flour the first day that the mill had run. Owing to the fact that some of the belts on the machinery had to be changed, the mill was not in running order until about 7:30 yesterday morning.

Thirty-five customers had visited the mill yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, each of these averaging a turn of from 3 to 5 barrels. Mr. Burris also stated that he had on hand something like 450 bushels of wheat to be ground and that it would take him until about Tuesday at dinner to grind what he now has on hand.

In being shown through the mill it was noticed that the wheat was cleaned 13 times before it was made into flour, this being done in order to get every particle of dirt and dust off so as to insure the very best product. One of the most notable features of the cleaning process was a set of magnets which catch all nails, pins and other little particle of steel and iron.

Mr. Burris was yesterday showing angel cake made from the flour from the mill and it was very white. This is proof enough that the flour is good for any housewife knows that it takes the bent flour to make this cake.

WANTS TO ESTABLISH BIG HOG RANCH HERE

L. A. KNOKE OF NORTH DAKOTA VISITING IN ANDERSON.

IS NOT YET SUITED

Country Is All Right, But Price of Land Is Too High—His Big Ranch at Home.

Mr. L. A. Knoke, of Willow City, N. D., has been in the city for the past few days visiting Mr. Edward H. Richards, manager of the Carolina Grain & Elevator company. Mr. Knoke came here with the purpose of starting a hog raising ranch if he liked the country and found a place that suited him.

When interviewed by a representative of The Intelligencer yesterday, Mr. Knoke said that he was very much impressed with this section of the country but not with the price of land. He stated that it was all too high.

He is not yet through looking over the field though, and may still find some place that will suit him in both location and price.

Mr. Knoke is the owner of a big hog ranch in North Dakota and stated that he kept from 100 to 300 hogs. He raises them for breeding purposes and stated that it was very profitable business if conducted on the right scale.

Mr. Knoke will leave here sometime tomorrow, going into Georgia to look over certain sections in that state. While in Georgia he will visit Atlanta and stated that from there he would go directly home.

DEATHS

IN MEMORIAM

On Monday morning, June 14, 1915, as the hands on the clock were pointing to half past nine o'clock, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Evert, and carried away the spirit of their little twenty months old son, D. C. Jr. He was sick only five days with cholera infantum.

Oh! how we shall miss his little childish prattle and the patter of his little feet, as he would come running to meet daddy and mother. But we know that our loss is his eternal gain; we know that he is safe in the arms of Jesus.

Oh, the agony of that mother's and father's hearts as they sat by the little bed and watched the life ebbing away from their darling boy, and as they bent over the little white casketed form and pressed their last kisses upon his marble brow. It seems hard to give him up, but we have to be submissive to our Father's will for He doeth all things well. He never makes any mistakes. God gave this precious baby to his adoring parents, only to stay with them a few short months, and then He plucked him in the bud, to bloom in his heavenly garden.

Mother and ather we would say to you, weep not for your precious baby, he is safe, we know that he cannot come back to us, but we can live in such close touch with Jesus, our Master, that we can follow where his little hands beckon us.

D. C. Jr., was a very sensible lovable baby, making friends with everybody whom he met, and no one knew him but to love him.

The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at Sharon Methodist church amid a sorrowing host of relatives and friends. The floral tributes were beautiful, most of them were white which made us think so much of this sweet, pure, innocent baby which was so dearly loved by His Aunt.

Death Little Boy. Perry Rufus, the little seven months old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Mitchell died at their home at 56 Harris street, Orr Mill, yesterday morning. Interment will be made this morning at the Orr mill cemetery.

Mrs. Kennedy Ill. Mrs. Kennedy is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Bleckley on River street. Her many friends hope that her condition will soon improve.

INFORMATION WANTED

Sioux City Organization Wants Facts About This County. A request has been received by the local chamber of commerce from Sioux City, Iowa, for various agricultural data from this part of the country, the secretary of the organization having written that when recently in St. Louis, Mo., he was told to get in touch with agricultural conditions in Anderson and other Piedmont counties in South Carolina. This was done for the purpose of carrying out the idea of the Sioux City commercial organization in the matter of encouraging the adoption of more scientific ideas in agriculture and for the purpose of bringing the people of the cities and rural communities in more harmonious condition.
